THE VOICE OF THE CHANNEL

Reseller Middle East (RME), a publication by CPI Media Group, the leading IT publisher in the MENA region, has been a stalwart presence for nearly two decades. In an era of accelerated growth in the IT industry, RME maintains its influential position as the authoritative voice of the channel. The magazine is dedicated to keeping the channel community abreast of the latest vendor technologies and product developments while also apprising vendors and distributors of the key issues impacting their channel partners.

As the IT landscape undergoes profound transformations, encompassing IoT, cloud, storage, wireless, smartphones, touch screens, virtualization, and big data, channel partners are compelled to adapt their businesses dramatically. The conventional rules of engagement are being rewritten in response to changes in the corporate user environment, technology dynamics, market opportunities, and heightened competition. RME boldly confronts these challenges, actively engaging in a dialogue with all stakeholders to provide its community of readers with valuable insights, suggestions, opinions, and advice both in print and online.

Proudly positioned within the regional channel community, the Reseller team serves as an unbiased spokesperson and trusted advisor. Operating under its umbrella brand, tahawultech.com, Reseller Middle East extends its offerings with a variety of products, including annual awards, surveys, rankings, regional supplements, roundtable forums, buyer sessions, e-newsletters, and monthly supplements, solidifying its status as The Voice of the Channel.

A NOTE ABOUT OUR MAGAZINE

In a strategic move for 2025, RME has undergone a redesign to underscore our unwavering support for the enduring strength of the print product. While we actively leverage digital platforms such as tahawultech.com, social media and YouTube to expand our audience, we recognise and appreciate the growing loyalty of our magazine's readership and dedicated advertisers. This redesign is a testament to their ongoing commitment to us.
